December 2025 Consultation

The Parish Council in September launched a public consultation to gather residents' views on proposed planning applications and scoping works by Cornish Lithium that may affect our village and surrounding area.

This consultation is a vital step in ensuring that the voices of local people are heard and fully understood before any further developments progress. Cornish Lithium has outlined potential changes and exploratory works, and while these proposals are still at a developing stage, it is essential that residents have the opportunity to share their thoughts, concerns, and questions now.

The Parish Council's role is to represent the interests of the community. To do that effectively, we must first understand how residents feel about what is being proposed. This consultation is being carried out so that we can better inform ourselves of local opinion and ensure that any response we provide reflects the genuine views of the community.

We are keen to hear from as many residents as possible. This includes those who may have concerns about potential impacts on traffic, environment, landscape, noise, infrastructure, or quality of life, as well as those who may see potential benefits such as employment opportunities or investment in the area. All viewpoints are valid, and all feedback will help shape how the Parish Council moves forward.

By gathering this information now, the Parish Council will be in a stronger position to:

- Represent residents' views clearly and accurately
- Engage constructively with Cornish Lithium and planning authorities
- Challenge or support proposals based on informed community feedback
- Advocate for appropriate safeguards and mitigation where concerns are raised

We understand that proposals of this nature can raise questions and, for some, uncertainty. This consultation is not about promoting or opposing any development at this stage—it is about listening. Your feedback will directly influence how the Parish Council responds to future planning applications and discussions.

Together, by sharing your views, you are helping the Parish Council to ensure that the interests of our community remain at the heart of any future decisions that may affect our village.

We strongly encourage all residents to participate and make their voices heard.

Your views matter. Please take part in the consultation and help shape the way forward for our community.
